

Yann Eliès

gets podium with Generali

SKIPPER ELIÈS ACHIEVED THE THIRD PLACE AT THE ARTEMIS TRANSAT, THE OLDEST AND BEST-KNOWN SINGLEHANDED TRANSATLANTIC RACE

The Generali Group, leader in yatching insurance in France, since 1974 has been a faithful sponsor of this important sailing event founded by Sir Francis Chichester in 1960.

On May 25, Generali's boat crossed the finish line of the 2008 Artemis Transat in Boston after 13 days, 15 hours and 22 seconds of navigation.

Generali's
boat offshore
Finistere

Yann Eliès,
the skipper

© Yvan Zedda

Photos during the competition

© Gilles Martin - Raget

Yann Eliès secured third place in the oldest and best-known singlehanded transatlantic race, won this year by Loïck Peyron.

Following this result, Generali's skipper achieved the first place in the "IMOCA" provisional ranking and will take part at the most important competition of the Championship, Le Vendée Globe, which will be held in November.

For further information visit: www.generalivoile.com

© Jacques Vapillon

© Gilles Martin - Raget