

Moody's migliora il rating IFSR di Generali a A2, outlook stabile

Milano – Moody's ha migliorato il rating sulla solidità finanziaria (Insurer Financial Strength Rating - IFSR) di Generali da A3 ad A2 e ha cambiato l'outlook da positivo a stabile.

L'aggiornamento segue l'innalzamento di un notch del rating del Governo italiano (Baa2, stabile).

Il miglioramento riflette inoltre l'eccellente solidità patrimoniale e il forte profilo di business del Gruppo, che si basa su posizioni di leadership nei rispettivi mercati europei in cui opera, sulla diversificazione delle linee di business e sul relativamente basso rischio legato ai prodotti.

Ugualmente sono stati cambiati da positivi a stabili gli outlook delle principali compagnie controllate da Generali in Italia, Francia e Germania.

A seguire il comunicato stampa emesso da Moody's.

25 November 2025

Paris, November 25, 2025 - Moody's Ratings (Moody's) has today upgraded Assicurazioni Generali S.p.A (Generali)'s insurance financial strength rating (IFSR) to A2 from A3 and changed the outlook to stable from positive. RATINGS RATIONALE

ASSICURAZIONI GENERALI S.P.A IFSR

The upgrade of Generali's IFSR to A2 from A3 follows our upgrade by one notch of the ratings of the Government of Italy (Baa2, stable). For further information on the sovereign rating action, please refer to our press release dated 21 November 2025 ("Moody's Ratings upgrades Italy's ratings to Baa2, changes outlook to stable"; <https://ratings.moody's.com/ratings-news/455042>).

Generali's ratings are partly constrained by the Italian sovereign rating driven by the group's operating income and asset exposure to Italy, along with the domicile and debt issuance from its holding company in Italy. These factors are notably reflected in our assessment of Generali's asset quality, capital and financial flexibility. An improvement in the Italian sovereign credit quality therefore has a positive impact on Generali's credit quality.

As of 30 June 2025, Italian government bonds represented 9% of Generali's insurance general account investments, which is equivalent to 108% of the group's shareholders' equity. Generali generated 31% of its insurance premiums written and 32% of its insurance operating results from Italy in the first half of 2025.

Nonetheless, we currently rate Generali's insurance financial strength rating three notches above the Italian sovereign rating, to reflect the group's very strong business profile, which benefits from leading positions in its chosen markets in Europe, diversification by business lines and relatively low product risk.

The rating also reflects Generali's strong financial profile, despite its exposure to Italian sovereign risk. Generali's capitalization has remained broadly stable over recent years, with a strong Solvency II ratio of 214% as of 30 September 2025. Generali's adjusted financial leverage stood at 20% at year-end 2024 and earnings coverage was at 10x in 2024, metrics commensurate with higher-rated peers. Generali also continued to report strong earnings with a return on capital of around 7% in 2024, similar to 2023. In the first nine months of 2025, the group reported a net income of €3,215 million, up from the €2,962 million reported in the same period of 2024.

ASSICURAZIONI GENERALI S.P.A DEBT RATINGS

We have affirmed the Baa3(hyb) preferred stock non-cumulative debt rating of the perpetual restricted Tier 1 (RT1) notes issued by Generali in September 2025.

The Baa3(hyb) rating reflects the deeply subordinated status of the notes, the risk of coupon cancellation on a non-cumulative basis (coupons can be cancelled at any time at the issuer's option and are mandatorily cancelled if the group or company's solvency ratio falls below 100% or in case of regulatory intervention) and the risk of principal write-down. The notes will be fully written down if Generali's own funds fall below 75% of the group or the company's solvency capital requirement (SCR) or below the group or the company's minimum capital requirement (MCR). The notes will also be partially written down if Generali's own funds fall to between 100% and 75% of the group or the company's SCR for more than three months.

We assess the probability of the write-down trigger (own funds below 100% of the group or company's SCR) to be breached using a model-based approach, supplemented by qualitative considerations. The model takes into account Generali's creditworthiness as captured by its A2 IFSR, our expectation of the group's Solvency II ratio on a through-the-cycle basis, its disclosed ratio sensitivities and the group capital management.

We upgraded all other Generali's debt ratings by one notch, in line with the upgrade of the IFSR. Generali's senior unsecured and subordinated debt ratings, other than the RT1 rating, reflect our standard notching practices.

ASSICURAZIONI GENERALI S.P.A OUTLOOK

The stable outlook on Generali is in line with the stable outlook on the Government of Italy.

SUBSIDIARIES – RATINGS UPGRADED, STABLE OUTLOOK

We continue to align the IFSRs of the rated subsidiaries in Italy, France, and Germany with the IFSR of the Group, reflecting our view that these entities' business and financial profiles combined drive and benefit from the larger group's financial strength. The stable outlooks on these companies reflect the stable outlook on the parent company.

FACTORS THAT COULD LEAD TO AN UPGRADE OR DOWNGRADE OF THE RATINGS

ASSICURAZIONI GENERALI S.P.A

Upwards pressure on Generali's ratings could result from (1) an improvement in Italy's credit quality, as evidenced by an upgrade of its sovereign rating, (2) a continuation of its strong earnings track record and (3) maintenance of its Solvency II ratio firmly in excess of 200%, with continuously low sensitivities to negative financial market movements.

Downward pressure on the ratings could result from: (1) weakening of Italy's sovereign rating, or a very significant weakening of the credit quality of the French or German sovereign, or (2) a prolonged deterioration in the group's operating performance and capitalization, or (3) reduced cohesion of the group, as evidenced by a weakening of the support mechanisms within the group and a reduced ability for the Italian operations to benefit from the strengths of other group operations.

Positive rating action on the restricted Tier 1 notes could also occur if Generali maintained consistently a Solvency II ratio in excess of 230% or if Generali's A2 IFSR is upgraded by one notch. Conversely, negative rating action on the notes could occur if Generali's Solvency II ratio deteriorates to be consistently below 170%, or if its solvency ratio falls below 185% and Generali's A2 IFSR is downgraded.

SUBSIDIARIES

As the financial strength of Generali's rated subsidiaries is closely intertwined with that of the larger Generali group, any change in Generali's ratings or outlook will likely result in an equivalent change in the subsidiaries' ratings or outlook. Further, downwards pressure on their ratings could result from reduced cohesion in the group or if it becomes apparent that support mechanisms within the group weaken.
